SEVERAL CASES OF TYPHOID

Health Officer Notifies Landlords to Clean up Around Premises.

MAY CALL FOR STATE AID

As a result of an epidemic of typhoid fever on a part of the hill, within the limits between Second and Third streets and Luella and Crest avenues, Health Officer Darby today notified the landlords to improve the health conditions in sewers and closets. It is thought that the typhoid comes from the unsanitary condition of these two.

There are at present in this block six cases of typhoid fever, in that many families. In the entire section it is claimed the health conditions are bad, however, and the nine landlords, owning property there are partly blamed for not keeping the sewers and closets in the best sanitary shape. The flushing is said to be deficient.

Mr. Darby stated this morning that if matters became much worse, he would send a call to State Health Commissioner Samuel C. Dixon for State help. The matter is really serious and demands instant action.

At present it is stated as a fact that he has at least three, one of them being a former Charleroi girl, Sadie Hoffman. TRAINMEN INJURED

Coal Train Crashes Into Three Cars on Siding at Bentleyville.

Three men were injured and traffic was tied up on the Monongahela and Washington branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad as the result of a freight wreck yesterday afternoon at Bentleyville.

THE INJURED.

F. H. Leighty, Monongahela, fireman, thrown over embankment, sustaining injuries about the arms and legs.

H. S. Brindle, Coal Bluff, engineer, cut about the head and body.

A broken rail at a siding is blamed. The train was running through the station yard when suddenly the locomotive with two tenders attached and three loaded freight cars, left the tracks and rolled over a 50-foot embankment into the creek. Lloyd was caught under the cars and was rescued unconscious by other trainmen. The fireman was hurled clear of the train. The engineer jumped.

Charleroi Negro Pleads Guilty to Two Serious Charges.

KNOWN BY OTHER NAMES WILL HAVE SPECIAL MUSIC

Jack Johnson's colored man, with it is said more aliases, than anything else pleaded guilty yesterday in court to selling liquor without license, furnishing liquor on Sunday and keeping a bawdy house. Johnson was the man sent over last week from Charleroi. He recited a long story, endeavoring to explain away the charge against him. The place where Johnson held forth was raided by Chief of Police Albright and his men and County Detective William McCleary made the information. The district attorney had a complaint from the ministers of Charleroi about Johnson's place. A woman, Mary Johnson, was arrested in the raid. The court imposed the costs, fines of $600 and six months imprisonment to the workhouse.

WASHINGTON COUNTY WITH REPUTATION FOR HISTORIC THINGS HAS REAL FEUD

Shooting and All the Other Incidentals of a Tragical Kentucky Affair on the Program.

It's a cold day when Washington county can't show up some connection in some way with all the celebrated personages and events that are in the public eye—from descendants of Robert Fulton, Cook, Peary, principals in the Whisky Rebellion, the organization of the Church of the Disciples, Mormonism, cremation and what not. Now it comes to the front with a first class family feud with all the Kentucky gun play accessories.

This feud, which is said to have existed between the McAdoo and Sheller families in Independence township for the past five years, came to a focus last Friday. Two members of the families, Robert McAdoo and George Sheller, met at the Walker Miller saloon at Donard. Each trailed McAdoo tail for the other to step upon, and after talking "sassy" to one another drew their guns to shoot each other up. Friends separated the combatants, and they were prevented from shedding gore.

Saturday Sheller and his wife were driving along the Densmore road in a buggy, when they met McAdoo also driving in a buggy. By common consent each drew his gun and opened fire. Hostilities were suspended by Mrs. Sheller throwing herself between the combatants and McAdoo's horse plunging and becoming uncontrollable. On taking stock of the casualties it was found that Sheller had two bullet holes in his clothes, and a slight scratch on his breast. McAdoo was unscathed. No arrests have been made, and it is stated that moving picture artists are headed for Independence.

STRONG ACTING IN "THE SLAVE GIRL"

The first night play, "The Slave Girl," produced at the Coryle Theatre last night by the Monongahela stock company, was the occasion for the entertainment of a large crowd. The play was a strong one dealing with times before the Civil war. There was some especially strong acting in the third and fourth acts.

Helen Russell, as "Little Alabama," the Slave Girl was especially at home in her role and took the audience by storm by her superb acting. C. C. Ravencroft, as "Johnson," an old slave, and Miss Georgia King, as "Mandy," Johnson's wife showed much adaptability to their parts, and portrayed these two characters in a fine manner. Harry A. Fehl, as "Col. Preston Grove," owner of the plantation, did some fine acting that caused considerable applause, as did Birthe Farnsworth, as "Mrs. Grove." The entire supporting company were good, and deserve commendation for the way they handled the strong parts.

Use for a Controller.

The Connellsville Courier, in commenting on the charge that some of that borough's creditors are being paid twice for the same account, hopes that the coming census will give Connellsville population enough to get a city charter, under which they can have a city controller. Concerning the benefits of this office the Courier says:

"The city controller is the check and guard and balance wheel of the corporation. He stands between those authorized to incur public indebtedness and the public treasury where such indebtedness is paid. The controller is a perpetual and vigilant auditor on the job not once a year and perfunctorily, but every day in the year and vigilantly.

"Borough auditors examine the accounts of boroughs once a year. Statements of the accounts are commonly either compiled by the authorities or presented in the form of certain records, and these are usually cursorily examined and approved, the examination seldom going further than a verification of the clerical work. Few borough auditors have a full comprehension of their powers and duties. It is their duty to not only check up and verify each item of expenditure, but also to determine whether it was a lawful expenditure of the public money, and if it was not, to surcharge the amount, individually and collectively, to those responsible for the expenditure. This is rarely done.

"The city controller, however, does not wait until the end of the year to examine in a casual way warrants for the payment of public money. His approval is required to every warrant before the money can be drawn upon it. He scrutinizes it before it is paid, not afterwards. If payment is unlawful, he stops it. He thus not only saves uninformed officials from danger of being personally surcharged for the illegal expenditure of public monies, but he so prevents the public treasury from being robbed of sums of money which, if recovered at all, are restored only after a great deal of time and trouble.

"In short the city controller sees the unlawful expenditure first and that is the best time to see it."

These are exactly the reasons why

a county controller is essential. By keeping check on expenditures as they come up a controller can save many times his salary during the year. This was evidenced in this county in 1906, when, had there been a controller, it is probable that the county would have been saved the sum of from $100,000 to $150,000. It will be remembered that following the audit of that year W. R. Dennison, the minority auditor, surcharged the other auditors to the amount of $200,000, which he claimed was unwarranted expenditure.

Subsequently the Taxpayers' League appealed in court to the amount of $150,000 from the auditors' report. The appeal was lost, however, the court sustaining the report, although there were evidences of extravagance and irregularity. As the expenditures had been used for county purposes, although without doubt extravagantly, there was no other recourse than to sustain the audit. Had a controller been in office at that time it is altogether likely that the county would have been at least $100,000 to the good that year.

Too Late.

Whatever may be the results of the adverse decision against the Standard Oil company in the United States Circuit Court, no material benefits can possibly accrue to the public from it. It matters not now whether or not the trust is dissolved. Its work has been completed and its methods are now so thoroughly organized that its mission can be carried out severally as well as jointly. The only difference is that its operations may cost more, but then the public will have to pay this enhanced cost.

The trust spirit and methods are now so thoroughly ingrained that formal organization is no longer necessary. The stock watering era has been about worked to its limit and now other methods must be pursued. The "gentlemen's agreement" can be made to answer every requirement of the trust and is not so bothersome or expensive. It is this that is causing most of the high prices of manufactured products, and with no formal organization to attack the public is impotent to combat this species of organization. The Standard Oil company can dissolve into innumerable small concerns and still do business at the same old stand. The horse was stolen long ago. It is too late to lock the stable now.

Where Is It Needed?

It is stated that the farmers want more protection from the manufacturers of oleomargarine. That being the case, the question naturally arises, where is this protection needed? Is it to prevent fraud by the sale of the oleo for pure butter, or is it to protect the farmer from competition with the artificial product?

If the additional protection is to prevent fraud, well and good. If it is to protect the farmer from competition, then there is another side to the question. There is the consumer to be taken into consideration. This latter class constitutes the poorer and working classes, and the protection to the farmer means higher priced butter and its substitutes. Oleomargarine is a cheap and wholesome substitute for butter, and if untaxed and sold for what it is, it makes a material difference in the cost of living to the working classes. Protection for the farmer is at the expense of the consumer. In view of the high price of the cost of living it is time the consumer had an inning. It is well to inquire where is this protection in the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine needed?

It might be all right to get arrested to end a long spree, but we don't like the cold water bath for a big head would be wanting.

Many men feel that if they ever dabble in hypnotics they will be professor, in the subject.

Charleroi is being worked to the limit with concerts and things. There's nothing like those things, though, to make a town seem lively.

According to some politicians it's not the best policy to have a too sharp eyed fellow in office or one who is likely to have attacks of "show me it."

Many more people would get married than do, if they could raise the minister's fee.

People are getting in the habit of finding big things. The other day a man found a horse, and soon after another man found a bicycle. Still we don't hear of very many people finding a few thousand spondulicks lying loose.

If North Charleroi gets a new lock, with that and her paved streets, she will be so proud that she will not recognize Speers as a borough, and then we may expect a scrap.

A Washington baby has been named "Peary Cook Roosevelt Taft Jeffries Johnson Jones." The question is what will the fellows call it for nickname, when it grows up? Might call him Peacock Jones.

What's the use of having any lower court? People only appeal their cases to the higher ones, anyhow.

A telephone war is imminent over at Monessen, not between two companies, but between a few people. Funny how people will fight, isn't it?

Monongahela and Donora are considering that their road improvements will be made in the spring. Many considered last spring.

LIFE ISN'T WORTH LIVING

When this Statement is Made it May be Generally Attributed to the Lack of Good Health.

We want to, talk to people who are nervous, who suffer frequent headaches, who don't enjoy their food, who are irritable, quickly lose their temper who are so exhausted that they feel they must give up, and have become so despondent that life doesn't seem worth living. We believe we know what is the matter with these people in this condition, and if they will follow our advice we can tell them how to regain good health and that buoyancy of feeling which makes life seem surrounded with happiness and sunshine.

Most of the above described conditions are chiefly caused by what is commonly called catarrh, a "below par" condition of mucous membranes. This delicate lining of certain of the body cavities becomes weakened, inflamed and congested until the whole system is weakened, mental depression ensuing as one of the results. The wise way to overcome this condition is through a treatment of the general system. We have the treatment, and we are so positive it will produce the results we claim for it that we will supply it to any one with the understanding that we will return to them every penny paid us in every instance where the treatment is not in every way satisfactory and beneficial to them.

We want you to try Rexall Muc-Tone, which is a scientifically devised alternative tonic and body builder, its action being to aid the body in its effort to re-establish the natural and healthy functions of the mucous membranes.

Rexall Muc-Tone thus acts to expel the "catarrhal poison," restore the mucous cells to good health tone up the whole body, allay inflammation, remove congestion and stimulate the system to healthy activity. It is splendid for aiding in the building up of flesh and muscle tissue and removing weaknesses.

Come to our store and get a bottle of Muc-Tone and after giving it a reasonable trial, if you are not satisfied simply tell us so, and we will hand back your money without question. Surely nothing could be more fair than this: Rexall Muc-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Charleroi only at our store—The Rexall Store. John W. TO SAVE MINERS' LIVES

(New York Herald.)

Seldom in this country is an intelligent, organized effort made to rescue entombed miners. Probably there was not at Cherry, Ill., even one trained life saver with proper equipment to direct the volunteers in their attempts to save the 400 victims. No matter how willing to risk their lives, no matter how courageous the volunteers may be, they cannot without such expert direction do the best that is possible.

In the French mine disaster of a year or two ago the plain neglect of reasonable measures shocked mankind and sent to the mad house many of the relatives who raved about the mouth of the mine. More than a score of volunteers broke through the floor of troops and entered the mine, only to die in the black depths because they lacked training, direction and equipment. The expert life savers of the Westphalia mines were sent by the Kaiser with their tested ropes, ladders and other tackle, but too late—except to bring bodies to the surface and to show that had they been on the scene within a week after the explosion they could have saved scores. During twenty days haggard survivors staggered into the light and told of others still alive below.

It is hardly less important that the mine operators should bear the small cost of expert direction in accidents than that the Government should maintain its elaborate marine life saving service. Along the sea coast and the Great Lakes, in addition to the warning lighthouses, we have a system provided with costly boats, cables, mortars, rockets, marine glasses and horses, which saves many lives each year. On stormy days and nights guards patrol dangerous coasts. There are stated salaries and for exceptional heroism there are medals.

To employ in every mining district a few men who are especially fitted to organize and drill in life-saving a corps, of the more intelligent miners, as well as to provide suitable equipment for them, would be a small expense, to which most operators could hardly object.

One Held for Court.

At a hearing yesterday afternoon before Justice Scott at North Charleroi, the Italian alleged to have struck Tim Wilson, the street car conductor on Sunday, was held for court and two others were fined.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free. Sold by Druggists, etc. J. C. SHOOTING WHALES.

Modern Whalers Use a Cannon and an Explosive Harpoon.

Whaling with modern methods in Alaskan waters is an exciting game, especially for those who are new to the business. The modern whaling steamer is a little vessel almost round on the bottom, which enables it to be turned and managed with the greatest ease. Mounted at the bow is a small cannon that shoots a harpoon weighing more than 100 pounds and having an explosive head, called the bomb. If the shot is good and the harpoon is planted squarely behind the fin, the bomb crashes into the lungs, killing instantly; if not, the struggle may last for several hours.

After a whale has been killed the carcass is brought alongside the boat and inflated so that it will float. A long coil of rubber hose, one end of which is attached to a pump and the other to a hollow spear pointed tube of steel, with perforations along its entire length, is used for this purpose.

The spear is thrust well down into the whale's side, the air pump started and the body slowly filled with air. When inflated enough to keep it afloat the tube is withdrawn, the incision plugged with oakum and the carcass cast off. A buoy with a flag is attached to the body, and it is then set adrift to be picked up at the end of the day's hunting.

The whaling station is a group of buildings situated in a bay or cove near enough to the feeding grounds to allow the steamer to come in each night with the day's catch. The whales are anchored at a buoy in front of a long, inclined platform, upon which they are drawn, tail first, by means of a steam winch.

The saying that every part of the pig but the squeal is now of market value is also a fact with the whale. Not a particle of the animal is wasted. After the skeleton is stripped of flesh it is disarticulated and the bones chopped in pieces.

The blubber is tried out for oil, and the meat and bones are boiled for the same purpose. Later the flesh is artificially dried and sifted, making a fine guano, and the bones are ground up for fertilizer. Even the blood is boiled and dried with the flesh, and the water in which the blubber has been tried out makes excellent glue. The fins and tail, after being sliced into thin strips, are salted and barreled and shipped to Japan as an article of food. —World's Work.

A Warning to Sweeties.

Advertising the use of sweet fruits, preserves, sugar and good candy by children, Dr. Woods Hutchinson in Success says that a craving for sweets is nature's call for the substance which is a full blown member of the great trinity of nutrient materials, sugar (carbohydrate), meat (protein) and fat. Sugar is wood, coal, gasoline for the muscle engine. Every time the tiny engine gives one of its rhythmic explosions—that is to say, when a muscle contracts—a certain amount of sugar is burned up. It is fortunate for people whom a mistaken conscience deprives of sweets that the human body can manufacture sugar out of many foods, out of meat, milk, vegetables and grains; otherwise the body would go into the desperate business of manufacturing sugar out of its own tissues, which is precisely what diabetics did in the days when this disease was supposed to be due to too much sugar in the food and physicians tried to cure it by cutting sweets and sweetmakers out of the patient's diet.

The only convincing evidence of a man's sincerity is that he give himself for a principle. —Lowell.

Our Conscience as a Guide.

We are not without a guide. God has given us a conscience that is to be our guide. The captain of a ship has beside him the faithful compass, his guide. We have to have with us in the voyage of life our conscience, as a guide that by it we may reach our harbor, the home God has prepared for us after death. —Rev. Thomas R. McCoy, Roman Catholic, Boston.

Hope That Spurs Us On.

The price of not becoming a Christian is the loss of joy and hope. All life is lived by hope. The business man consoles himself for his present condition with the hope of future activity. We have much to contend with in this life, and it is the hope of resurrection and eternal life that spurs us to our best efforts. It is by that hope that we are able to give our best efforts in this life. —Rev. F. E. Dark, Baptist, Portland, Ore.

Beware of Flies.

Flies are a great menace to health. It has been proved that they cause many diseases, and therefore babies should be carefully protected from them. We know that the fly causes a large percentage of typhoid fever cases and that it is the chief disseminator of diarrheal diseases. Therefore during the entire summer every mother should wage unceasing warfare on the common household pest. The number of bacteria on a single fly may range from 550 to 6,600,000. Early in the season the number of bacteria is comparatively small, but it increases rapidly with the progress of the summer. Screen all food.

How It Is Done.

"Alleged witticisms?" Interrupted the press humorist. "Oh, I get an idea occasionally, and every idea is good for several hundred jokes." —Louis W. Courier-Journal.

NOT ALWAYS AGE

Beautiful Complexions are Often Hidden by the Accumulation of Years.

Are you really old, or just unclean? That is what many a woman may honestly ask her complexion. The first part of this inquiry may sound a little more dignified than the last, but it's a fair question. Water and soap may have been used daily, and yet the pores will fill with foreign matter. Indeed the soaps and water may often do deposit impurities in our myriads of pores. The only real cleansing process is to be found in the use of massage creams, the best of which unquestionably is the well-known Crown Cream. While this is a remarkable beautifier when used even without massage, its action in connection with the Harlan Beauty Cup is truly marvelous. This latter toilet device is made of pure Para rubber, and by a gentle vacuum action, removes all impurities from the pores of the skin and at the same time effectively massages its entire texture. In this manner the surface is thoroughly refreshed, while the circulation beneath is quickened with new life. Crown Cream is sold everywhere for 50c a jar, which is only the price asked for ordinary face creams and the Harlan Beauty Cup also retails at half a dollar. Ask your own dealer and if he is not supplied, send to the Harlan Mfg. Co., Toledo, Ohio, for the "Crown Cream Beauty Book" which is free for the asking, or order the goods named. W. F. Use for a Controller.

The Connellsville Courier, in commenting on the charge that some of that borough's creditors are being paid twice for the same account, hopes that the coming census will give Connellsville population enough to get a city charter, under which they can have a city controller. Concerning the benefits of this office the Courier says:

"The city controller is the check and guard and balance wheel of the corporation. He stands between those authorized to incur public indebtedness and the public treasury where such indebtedness is paid. The controller is a perpetual and vigilant auditor on the job not once a year and perfunctorily, but every day in the year and vigilantly.

"Borough auditors examine the accounts of boroughs once a year. Statements of the accounts are commonly either compiled by the authorities or presented in the form of certain records, and these are usually cursorily examined and approved, the examination seldom going further than a verification of the clerical work. Few borough auditors have a full comprehension of their powers and duties. It is their duty to not only check up and verify each item of expenditure, but also to determine whether it was a lawful expenditure of the public money, and if it was not, to surcharge the amount, individually and collectively, to those responsible for the expenditure. This is rarely done.

"The city controller, however, does not wait until the end of the year to examine in a casual way warrants for the payment of public money. His approval is required to every warrant before the money can be drawn upon it. He scrutinizes it before it is paid, not afterwards. If payment is unlawful, he stops it. He thus not only saves uninformed officials from danger of being personally surcharged for the illegal expenditure of public monies, but he so prevents the public treasury from being robbed of sums of money which, if recovered at all, are restored only after a great deal of time and trouble.

"In short the city controller sees the unlawful expenditure first and that is the best time to see it."

These are exactly the reasons why

a county controller is essential. By keeping check on expenditures as they come up a controller can save many times his salary during the year. This was evidenced in this county in 1906, when, had there been a controller, it is probable that the county would have been saved the sum of from $100,000 to $150,000. It will be remembered that following the audit of that year W. R. Dennison, the minority auditor, surcharged the other auditors to the amount of $200,000, which he claimed was unwarranted expenditure.

Subsequently the Taxpayers' League appealed in court to the amount of $150,000 from the auditors' report. The appeal was lost, however, the court sustaining the report, although there were evidences of extravagance and irregularity. As the expenditures had been used for county purposes, although without doubt extravagantly, there was no other recourse than to sustain the audit. Had a controller been in office at that time it is altogether likely that the county would have been at least $100,000 to the good that year.

Too Late.

Whatever may be the results of the adverse decision against the Standard Oil company in the United States Circuit Court, no material benefits can possibly accrue to the public from it. It matters not now whether or not the trust is dissolved. Its work has been completed and its methods are now so thoroughly organized that its mission can be carried out severally as well as jointly. The only difference is that its operations may cost more, but then the public will have to pay this enhanced cost.

The trust spirit and methods are now so thoroughly ingrained that formal organization is no longer necessary. The stock watering era has been about worked to its limit and now other methods must be pursued. The "gentlemen's agreement" can be made to answer every requirement of the trust and is not so bothersome or expensive. It is this that is causing most of the high prices of manufactured products, and with no formal organization to attack the public is impotent to combat this species of organization. The Standard Oil company can dissolve into innumerable small concerns and still do business at the same old stand. The horse was stolen long ago. It is too late to lock the stable now.

Where Is It Needed?

It is stated that the farmers want more protection from the manufacturers of oleomargarine. That being the case, the question naturally arises, where is this protection needed? Is it to prevent fraud by the sale of the oleo for pure butter, or is it to protect the farmer from competition with the artificial product?

If the additional protection is to prevent fraud, well and good. If it is to protect the farmer from competition, then there is another side to the question. There is the consumer to be taken into consideration. This latter class constitutes the poorer and working classes, and the protection to the farmer means higher priced butter and its substitutes. Oleomargarine is a cheap and wholesome substitute for butter, and if untaxed and sold for what it is, it makes a material difference in the cost of living to the working classes. Protection for the farmer is at the expense of the consumer. In view of the high price of the cost of living it is time the consumer had an inning. It is well to inquire where is this protection in the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine needed?

Things are "dry" to a finish in parts of Washington and Greene counties. That ought to please E. F. Acheson.

It might be all right to get arrested to end a long spree, but we doubt it. The cold water bath for a big head would be wanting.

Many men feel that if they ever make a big thing, they will be a professor, not the subject.

Charleroi is being worked to the limit with concerts and things. There's nothing like those things, though, to make a town seem live.

According to some politicians it's not the best policy to have a too sharp eyed fellow in office or one who is likely to have attacks of "show me itis."

Many more people would get married than do, if they could raise the minister's fee.

People are getting in the habit of finding big things. The other day a man found a horse, and soon after another man found a bicycle. Still we don't hear of very many people finding a few thousand spondulicks lying loose.

If North Charleroi gets a new lock, with that and her paved streets, she will be so proud that she will not recognize Speers as a borough, and then we may expect a scrap.

A Washington baby has been named "Peary Cook Roosevelt Taft Jeffries Johnson Jones." The question is what will the fellows call it for nick-name, when it grows up? Might call him Peacock Jones.

What's the use of having any lower court? People only appeal their cases to the higher ones, anyhow.

A telephone war is imminent over at Monessen, not between two companies, but between a few people. Funny how people will fight, isn't it?

They are enriching the language by the addition of several new words. Wonder if the classical name for the Hookworm disease will be given a place in the next dictionary?

LIFE ISN'T WORTH LIVING

When this Statement is Made it May be Generally Attributed to the Lack of Good Health.

We want to talk to people who are nervous, who suffer frequent headaches, who don't enjoy their food, who are irritable, quickly lose their temper who are so exhausted that they feel they must give up, and have become so despondent that life doesn't seem worth living. We believe we know what is the matter with these people in this condition, and if they will follow our advice we can tell them how to regain good health and that buoyancy of feeling which makes life seem surrounded with happiness and sunshine.

Most of the above described conditions are chiefly caused by what is commonly called catarrh, a "below par" condition of mucous membranes. This delicate lining of certain of the body cavities becomes weakened, inflamed and congested until the whole system is weakened, mental depression ensuing as one of the results. The wise way to overcome this condition is through a treatment of the general system. We have the treatment, and we are so positive it will produce the results we claim for it that we will supply it to any one with the understanding that we will return to them every penny paid us in every instance where the treatment is not in every way satisfactory and beneficially to them.

We want you to try Rexall Muc-Tone, which is a scientifically devised alternative tonic and body builder, its action being to aid the body in its effort to re-establish the natural and healthy functions of the mucous membranes.

Rexall Muc-Tone thus acts to expel the "catarrhal poison," restore the mucous cells to good health tone up the whole body, allay inflammation, remove congestion and stimulate the system to healthy activity. It is splendid for aiding in the building up of flesh and muscle tissue and removing weaknesses.

Come to our store and get a bottle of Muc-Tone and after giving it a reasonable trial, if you are not satisfied simply tell us so, and we will hand back your money without question. Surely nothing could be more fair than this. Rexall Muc-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Charleroi only at our store—The Rexall Store, John W. Carroll.

TO SAVE MINERS' LIVES

(New York World.)

Seldom in this country is an intelligent miner. Probably there was not at Cherry, Ill., even one trained life saver with proper equipment to direct the volunteers in their attempts to save the 400 victims. No matter how willing to risk their lives, no matter how courageous the volunteers may be, they cannot without such expert direction do the best that is possible.

In the French mine disaster of a year or two ago the plain neglect of reasonable measures shocked mankind and sent to the mad house many of the relatives who raved about the mouth of the mine. More than a score of volunteers broke through the line of troops and entered the mine, only to die in the black depths because they lacked training, direction and equipment. The expert life savers of the Westphalia mines were sent by the Kaiser with their tested ropes, ladders and other tackle, but too late to show that had they been on the scene within a week after the explosion they could have saved scores. During twenty days haggard survivors staggered into the light and told of others still alive below.

It is hardly less important that the mine operators should bear the small cost of expert direction in accidents than that the Government should maintain its elaborate marine life saving service. Along the sea coast and the Great Lakes, in addition to the warning lighthouses, we have a system provided with costly boats, cables, mortars, rockets, marine glasses and horses, which saves many lives each year. On stormy days and nights guards patrol dangerous coasts. There are stated salaries and for exceptional heroism there are medals.

To employ in every mining district a few men who are especially fitted to organize and drill in life-saving a corps of the more intelligent miners, as well as to provide suitable equipment for them, would be a small expense, to which most operators could hardly object.

A West Indian Wife Catcher.

As is customary with Indians the world over, the Caribs are expert basket weavers, and many strong and handsome baskets are to be bought in Roseau at reasonable prices. If one finds the right shop, writes Harriet Quimby in Leslie's Weekly. A peculiar instrument, made of basket straw and woven closely together so as to form a hollow tube ending in a flange of twisted ends and commonly called a wife catcher, is also made and sold by the Caribs. By slipping the hollow end over a man's finger above the joint and pulling on the twisted end the catcher with tighten around the finger and the captive will be unable to release his hand. It is claimed that the Indians formerly employed this device as a handcuff for prisoners, using several for each hand and leading the captives by the fingers. Few tourists are permitted to leave Roseau without a wife catcher, for which price is willingly exchanged.

A Greater Loss.

Here is a laughable experience of Lord Sheffield. He was once walking down Piccadilly with a friend, whom he explained that it would be impossible for any one to pick his pocket without his knowledge. Lord Sheffield's pocket handkerchief was hanging out, and his friend, having diverted his attention, quietly abstracted it. Instantly Lord Sheffield noticed a seely looking man who was passing and charged him with the theft, but the friend producing the handkerchief and explaining the joke, the unfortunate individual whom his lordship had so unceremoniously seized was released with many apologies. The man beat a hasty retreat, and shortly afterwards Lord Sheffield discovered that he had lost his pocketbook.—London Express

Fines in Germany.

The German workman who the other day was fined by a London police court probably considered that he had a genuine grievance when he complained that, in addition to the due, his compulsory attendance at the court had lost him a day's pay. For they do these things better—at any rate from the defendant's point of view. In the fatherland, for what may be described as a trivial offense the worker is not compelled to attend the court, and the amount of the fine is collected from him at his house by a policeman. In the event of a more serious though still comparatively venial breach of the law, punishable by a short term of imprisonment, justice is satisfied if he works off the time by installments Sundays and holidays.—London Chronicle

George Meredith.

The legend that in his early days the late George Meredith was so poor that he invested all his funds in a sack of oatmeal, subsisting thereon while he wrote "Evan Harrington," is denied by Mr. J. A. Hammerton in his book "George Meredith in Anecdote and Criticism." One part of that picturesque if baseless story was to the effect that the novelist was not able to buy fuel and was accustomed to carry the bag of oatmeal across the rooms to keep himself warm.

Industrial and Business Conditions Again Reach Flood-tide in This Country

PARTY PLEDGES MADE GOOD

Whole Country Feels the Thrill of Business Activity—Fight Made by United States Senators Penrose and Oliver Fully Justified.

The political quiet prevailing throughout the country just at this season is positively gracious. Meanwhile there is time and opportunity for political reflection on the conditions as they actually exist. It is not always comforting to look back and carefully survey the past. The political past, especially in Pennsylvania, bears careful inspection, however, and the past gives glowing promise for the future.

Pennsylvania's position in the industrial world the people of this State suffered first and severest when business became clogged and the industrial affairs were hampered and distressed. Very naturally politicians were charged with the responsibility for the existing conditions and relief was demanded from the hands of the dominant political party of the country.

Just when the industrial and business affairs of the country were at their worst the struggle to force a change in the policy of the dominant political party of the country was fiercest. Fortunately for the whole country, however, the policies of the dominant party were firmly fixed and thoroughly well founded and prosperity, in a rising tide, has been fairly flooding Pennsylvania since the dominant, or Republican, party has proclaimed, by Congressional enactment, the policies and principles for which it stands.

Pennsylvania's two United States senators and her Republican delegation in the lower branch of the United States congress had much to do with keeping the Republican craft safely moored to the rock of protection and the conditions existing today are eloquent of the wisdom manifested by Pennsylvania's national legislators. Senators Boies Penrose and George T. Oliver knew better, probably, than any other two members of the United States senate, just what protection to American industries meant to the business and the wage earners of Pennsylvania. They stood, hard and fast, for a clear and positive declaration on the fixed policies of the Republican party on the tariff question. Both senators, equipped beyond their fellows, approached magnificently at the front of the great Republican column to do battle with the enemies of protection and they materially helped to win a glorious fight not only for the people of Pennsylvania but for all the people of this country. The least flattering or uncertainly on the part of the United States senators from Pennsylvania when the policies of the Republican party were endangered, during the last session of the senate, certainly would have been serious if not disastrous. But the great fight which was practically managed and guided by Senator Penrose established his most brilliant political success and has already given ample reason for national rejoicing.

Pennsylvania, and in fact the whole United States, are about on top again. The affairs of Pennsylvania, industrial, financial and political, are entirely healthy and are glowing with prosperity. The iron and steel industry, that traditional barometer of trade, with an output exceeding that of history, stands at a new high level. Bank clearings and railroad earnings are as great as ever before, which shows conclusively the volume of business, and prosperous business at that. Legitimate stocks are now up to 10 to 15 percent above previous high-water mark. No sane and sensible man will even question the responsibility for this condition. It is prosperity, the child of Republican policies.

It will be recalled that almost similar conditions existed before the panic or season of financial unrest in 1907. The whole country was burdened with its load of legitimate business, but there wasn't money enough to comfortably carry the load and a reaction followed. Credit was strained almost to the breaking point and only the abiding faith in the policies and principles of the Republican party prevented disaster and distress. When the financial and industrial storm was fiercest and the confidence in the Republican party was greatest and with steadfast faith in Republican pledges the country stood erect, drove disaster and unrest far into the background and right now the same load of business which was heavy and embarrassing just two years ago is being carried with apparent ease. Money is abundant and credit is freely extended. Since the recent distress the stock of gold in the country has increased more than two hundred million dollars. The stock of gold and bank-notes has increased since 1907 over three hundred million dollars. The country's base has been broadened. That base is standing upon its confidence in Republican principles. From the next session of the United States congress will certainly come legislation which will justify the

CURES REMOVE DOUBT ABOUT ECZEMA CURE

Read What Your Druggist Says About Oil of Wintergreen

For several years we have announced, with our recommendation, that we had found a positive cure for eczema: a simple skin wash, oil of wintergreen, compounded with other healing ingredients.

Yet we know there are people right in this town who have eczema, and still have never tried this remedy.

We have, therefore, arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special offer of a trial bottle at 25 cents instead of the $1.00 bottle as regularly sold.

We offer this trial bottle with our recommendation and assurance that just as soon as the patient washes his itching skin, this mild liquid will take the itch away instantly.
